

Meet Miss Amanda

Name: Miss Amanda Butcher

Position: Lead Toddler Teacher

Starting Date at Joyful Noise: October 2005

Degree and Experience: Bachelor Degree in Social Work, Early Childhood Classes, Over 14 years of trainings and working with children

A Little About Miss Amanda: I am a teacher, a wife, a mother, a vegan, an animal and child's rights advocate. I have 2 boys (Kaleb and Cash), a dog named Penny and a cat named Basil. I love to spend time with my family, camp, travel and go on adventures.

Miss Amanda's Teaching Philosophy: It is okay to be silly, sing and dance, even if the whole world is watching. I believe that the classroom is a child's safe place to be loved and accepted while they explore, grow and try new things. I love being able to spark a sense of wonder, imagination and creativity inside each child.
